

ANOTHER EXCELLENT LINK FOR THOSE WHO ARE WILLING TO STUDY THE SCRIPTURES THOROUGHLY - CONCERNING GOD AND SALVATION
THROUGH JESUS
OUR LORD AND SAVIOUR:

Go to www.ucg.org for a well compiled writing on the identity of the Holy Spirit : “Is the Holy Spirit a Person?” (UCG.org/ Bible Study Tools/Booklets/ Is God a Trinity? Is the Holy Spirit a Person?”. Kindly note that each and every viewpoint expressed in this article, or on the relevant website, is not necessarily supported by us, but a good research work, as this specific one indeed is, is something one can surely give a thorough reading!

Another excellent article on the same web site, is: "Is God a Trinity?"

When it comes to discussions on the Godhead, it is good to keep in mind Paul's words, namely that Jesus is the same, yesterday, today and forever (Heb. 13). The Scriptures also testifies of God Most High, stating that there is no shadow of turning with Him, also that God remains the same. He can therefore, to say it simplistically and in a nutshell, not “sometimes be Father, then Son and again Holy Spirit.” The Apostles of Jesus preached Jesus as “SON of the Living God”, and this idea is evident from the New Testament apostolic writings.
